The Eiffel Tower

The Eiffel Tower is world famous. It gets millions of tourists every year. However, it is getting old. It is 133 years old. Engineers found it full of rust. They mentioned it as ‘The Eiffel in a poor state’. The tower needs many repairs. If it is not repaired, it might not be safe. Its designer, Gustave Eiffel, would be sad if he saw it today. The construction was completed in 1888. Then the Eiffel Tower was opened in 1889. It was built for the 1889 World’s Fair in Paris. It contains 10,100 Tons of iron. It was built just for 20 years. The French government decided to keep it. The Tower is being repainted for the 2024 Olympics. Engineers say new paint will not make the rust go away.

Read the following paragraph and answer the questions.

My younger brother and I were on our way to aunt Arani's house. She had invited us for dinner and we were not looking forward to it. Aunt Arani was a terrible cook. Her dishes always gave me indigestion; they were either too hot, too salty or too sweet. When we reached her house, aunty was on her way out. "Sorry boys" she said. "I've got to go and meet the doctor. Please help yourselves to have your dinner in the kitchen. I'll be back very soon." In the kitchen we found a large pizza. "It smells delicious!" said my brother. "Don't be fool!" I warned him. "Do you remember when she baked us a pizza last month, then you had a stomachache?" We sat down and thought for a while. Then we decided not to eat the pizza but we did not want to hurt aunty. We called Rex, aunt Arani's pet dog and gave it to him. About 15 minutes later aunt came. "Did you enjoy your dinner?" "Oh, yes. It was delicious" We chorused. "Oh! Glad to hear that. Actually, I had no time to cook, so I ordered a special pizza from Pizza Hut". We almost fainted.

Test 15

Read the following text and answer the questions given below.

Tom was rather looking forward to his first journey by tube, as the underground railway in London is called. He had heard a great deal about it from his friends who had already been to England. They all advised him not to travel alone the first time. But Tom is the kind of person who never listens to anyone advice. It is not surprising, therefore, that his first journey by tube was not a great success.

Tom entered the station shortly after five o'clock in the afternoon. This is a bad time to travel in London, both by bus and train, because crowds of people go home from work at this hour. He had to join a long queue of people who were waiting for tickets. When at last his turn came, he had some difficulty in making the man understand the name of the station he wanted to go to. The people in the queue behind him began to grumble impatiently at the delay. However, he got the right ticket in the end and, by asking several people the way, he also found the right platform. This was packed tight with people. He did not manage to get on the first train, but he was able to move nearer the edge of the platform to be in a better position to get on the next one. When this came in, emerging from the tunnel with a terrifying roar, Tom was swept forward on to the train by the rush of people from behind. The doors closed and the train moved off before he was able to get his breath back. He was unable to see the names of the stations where the train stopped, but he had taken the precaution of counting the number of stops so that he knew exactly where to get off. His station was the sixth along the line.

When the train reached the sixth station, Tom got off, feeling relieved that his journey had been so easy. But he was alarmed to see that he had got off at a station that he had never heard of! He did not know what to do. He explained his difficult to a man who was standing on the platform. With the look of amusement on his face the man told tom he had travelled on a train going the wrong direction.
